First Generation

Ross Graham CALLAGHAN was born on 21 Mar 1947 in Takapuna, Auckland.

Ross was the eldest son of John Riddell CALLAGHAN and Madge TYSON.

Ross married Kathryn Joy ANDERSEN on 31 Aug 1974 at Glenfield Presbyterian Church, Auckland.

Ross and Kathy had three children: Deborah Joy, born 17 May 1976; Sarah Grace, born 5 Feb 1979; Philip John, born 25 Nov 1981

Ross had one brother, Brian John CALLAGHAN, who was born 04 Dec 1948 in Narrow Neck, Auckland. Brian married Margaret Elizabeth GATMAN Jan 1972 in St Georges Presbyterian, Takapuna, Auckland. The marriage ended in divorce. Brian and Margaret had four children: Stephanie, Natalie, Andrew and Jamie.

Brian married Julie Ann GRAY in April 1996 in Auckland.

Ross and Brian grew up on the North Shore of Auckland and enjoyed a happy childhood.

Jack and Madge Callaghan, with Ross and Brian

The Callaghan family were keen on sport and both Ross and Brian played rugby for Takapuna Club (sometimes in teams coached by their father). Golf was also an important sport in the family and Ross grew to become a very good golfer. He played in the equivalent of the NZ Open twice and was on a one handicap as a teenager. He was beaten in the finals of the prestigious North Shore club senior champs but won the NZ University title in 1965 and gained a University Blue. He also represented NZ Universities on a tour around the country where he was matched against some of the best golfers in NZ.

Ross and Brian attended Takapuna Primary School and Belmont Intermediate School. For their secondary education they attended St Kentigern College in Pakuranga. Getting to school meant several bus trips and, until the Auckland Harbour Bridge was built, also involved a ferry trip from Devonport.

Ross learnt his first musical instrument, the clarinet, while at St Kentigern College. For his 21st birthday he was given a second-hand Barrett and Robinson piano, and taught himself to play over the next few years. Playing the piano became an important activity for the rest of his life. Ross also taught himself to play the guitar and dabbled with the saxophone and piano accordion.

Ross's parents bought a bach at Martins Bay, about 1.5 hours north of Auckland. The whole family enjoyed their holidays at Martins Bay and Ross especially enjoyed cooking pipis on the beach; fishing; making huts, and climbing on the cliffs above the beach. The family also had a small boat and a P class yacht.

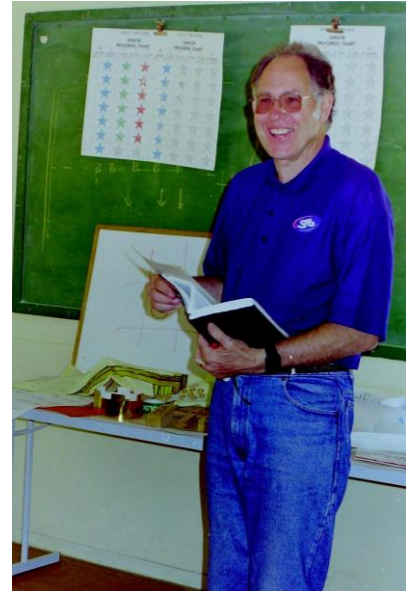

Martins Bay

After leaving school Ross went to Auckland University studying science. (1964-1967) and graduated in 1968 with a B.Sc. He then did a 1-year course at Auckland Teachers College, graduating with a Diploma in Teaching. He began his teaching career in 1969 at Takapuna Grammar School, teaching science, chemistry and biology, and soon became Head of Biology. He then taught at Rodney College in Wellsford (1976, 1977), and Mahurangi College in Warkworth (1978-1983), again being Head of Biology.

In 1983 Ross began having problems with his voice and after three operations he was pretty much unable to speak. He then got a job as Senior Science Teacher at the Correspondence School in Wellington (1984-1990) where he was able to continue teaching, but by correspondence, thus not requiring a strong voice. Ross became an expert in distance education and this enabled him to get a job as Training Manager at The Open Polytechnic of NZ (1990-2004), once his voice had recovered. There he taught and trained tutors in how to teach by distance education. Gradually his role changed and he became a consultant, offering training to businesses throughout New Zealand and abroad. His major client was the Retail Industry Training Organisation for whom Ross developed and managed a way of enabling people in retail to get nationally approved qualifications. Ross left the polytechnic in 2004 and set up his own business, continuing to offer training and consultancies in the workplace. He did this until his retirement in 2008.

The most significant and life changing event in Ross's life took place when he became a Christian. His life was never the same from that point on. He quickly developed a real love for the Lord and for His Word, the Bible. He was involved in lots of different ministry activities such as Sunday School, Youth Group, leadership at Christian Youth Camps, leading of home based groups and eldership in various churches.

Ross married Kathryn Joy Andersen on the 31st August 1974 at Glenfield Presbyterian Church. After his marriage to Kathy he continued with many of these ministry activities (including preaching, Bible teaching, the band 'Koinonia', home group leadership, training, chaplaincy for Girls' Brigade, and Church leadership), but his primary focus was on his marriage and his young family.

Ross and Kathy had a wonderful marriage and life together. They brought up three outstanding children, who, in turn produced six amazing grand-children. In addition to their ministry activities, Ross and Kathy travelled to well over 60 different countries, and had a wide range of interests, including gardening, orchid growing, poodles, photography and videography, Bible study, family history, keeping fit, barbershop and choir (Kathy), golf (Ross) and doing singalongs for elderly people.

Father

John Riddell CALLAGHAN, (known as Jack) was born on 31 Aug 1919 in Auckland, New Zealand and died on 4 June 1991 in Takapuna, Auckland, aged 71. He was the only son of John Henry CALLAGHAN and Frances Lucy RIDDELL. Jack had three sisters: Mollie, Margaret and Tui.

Jack's early life was not easy as he didn't get on with his father. Jack attended the local Catholic primary school, but when it came time to go to secondary school he refused to go! He often said he became a successful businessman without having any secondary education.

At the outbreak of the Second World War, Jack lied about his age and enlisted in the army. His occupation at the time of enlistment was 'Veterinary Chemist'. He joined the 7th Field Ambulance and served 6 months in Fiji until he was sent to Egypt and worked in a field hospital in Helwan.

This period of his life was pretty traumatic and Jack would never talk about it. One bright spot was that he met Madge Tyson in Helwan. They played tennis together and became part of a close group of New Zealanders whose friendship lasted long after the war. Jack and Madge got engaged in Egypt. They married on the 12th May 1945 in Runanga, and settled in Takapuna, Auckland, where they raised their two boys Ross and Brian. Later the Callaghan family lived in Northcote and Jack and Madge retired to a small house near Cheltenham Beach.

Jack trained as a bacteriologist and then set up his own company, 'Callaghan and Aitken Ltd, Bacteriologists', along with a friend, Rex Aitken. They did bacteriological work and pregnancy testing (using frogs gathered from throughout the country). When Rex died the company became Biological Laboratories Ltd, and its focus widened to include production of blood grouping products, peat-based rhizobium inoculants for stimulating plant growth and distribution of medical equipment and supplies. The company prospered under Jack's entrepreneurial leadership. Later the business became Smith Biolab, and then Salmond Smith Biolab, which was listed on the NZ Stock Exchange. Jack was an outstanding businessman and was widely respected for his business acumen. He retired at the age of 55 but continued as a director of Salmond Smith Biolab.

Jack was a long-time Rotarian; supported the Takapuna Rugby Football Club (and coached teams that included his two sons); travelled a lot throughout the world, and especially enjoyed his golf. He was a left-hander and got down to a 7 handicap, playing at the Takapuna Golf Club and then at the North Shore Golf Club. He was well-known and respected at North Shore and was responsible for both of his sons taking up golf.

On his retirement Jack took up a new interest: wood carving. He was blind in one eye but was still able to produce amazing carvings out of mahogany and kauri. He did carvings of stylised animals, Maori faces and wall hangings. He produced a special carving for each of his grandchildren which were very much treasured.

Madonna and Child by Jack Callaghan

Jack had a serious stroke soon after he retired and set about regaining his strength in a way that was most impressive. From that time on, though, he was not able to do as much as he had previously and he found this very frustrating. In the last few years of his life Jack had a succession of other strokes which debilitated him even further and frustrated him even more.

Jack was a generous man who was very proud of his sons and grandchildren. He died 4 June 1991 in Takapuna and his ashes were scattered under a tree that he walked past every day to get to Cheltenham Beach.

Obituary

John Riddell Callaghan
F.N.Z.I.M.L.T.

The death of Jack Callaghan on 4 June 1991 marks the passing of one of New Zealand's medical research entrepreneurs.

Mr Callaghan was founder Director of Biological Laboratories Ltd, now part of this Group. He became a Director of S.A Smith-Biolab Ltd in 1967 and continued to serve until his retirement in 1986.

Jack Callaghan left the employ of the Auckland Hospital Board to found a small laboratory in 1951. Although initially working in the field of consulting bacteriology, he recognised the need for New Zealand to manufacture specialised biological products required as diagnostic aids in Medical Laboratory Technology. His reputation as a leader in the field of quality, sterile production began a long association with the New Zealand Blood Transfusion Service.

Mother

Madge TYSON was born on 23 May 1914 in Runanga, West Coast, New Zealand and died on 5 May 2001 in Torbay, Auckland, New Zealand aged 87.

Madge was the eldest daughter of Isaac TYSON and Clara Jane GRAHAM.

Madge had two younger sisters, Joan born 27 April 1918 and Norma born 27 August 1920. All three sisters were born in Runanga.

It was tough living on the West Coast but the Tyson girls had a happy childhood. Madge, as the eldest, had to do much of the housework. This included a daily bike ride to a local dairy farm to get milk for the family. When she was 6 the family moved to Reefton for two years, and while there, electricity came to New Zealand, with Reefton being the first to get it. The Tyson family lived at Mill St, Runanga for most of Madge's childhood

Madge was a bright student and did well at school. She was dux of Runanga Primary School and did very well at Greymouth Technical College, where her favourite subject was history. She had to ride the 5 miles to school every day on her bike in all weathers!

The Tyson family in 1921.
Clara with Norma on her knee, Madge, Joan and Isaac.

Madge's mother, Clara, insisted that the girls attend Church regularly and demanded very high standards in all they did. The girls had a full social life with church activities, the tennis club, and tramping. Also, the family belonged to the Cumbrian and Westmorland Club, which held card evenings and many dances.

The Tyson girls loved to dance! A local lady would make the girls beautiful dresses for these dances and the girls were thought to be very 'forward' as they were the first in the community to wear trousers and shorts!

Madge learnt to play the piano. One time she and a boy entered a talent quest with Madge on the piano and the boy singing. The boy was so bad that they were placed second, even though they were the only ones entered in their category! This was no reflection on Madge's playing ability!

Later on Madge played the organ at Church. When she joined the local tramping club she would sometimes go on a 30km (20 mile) tramping trip then rush home and play the organ for Church. She got very tired!

When she left school Madge wanted to go to University, but because of the Depression, universities were not taking students so she got a clerical job at the Runanga Cooperative. When the Second World War broke out, Madge was accepted as a volunteer and sent to work in a hospital in Cairo, Egypt. She started out as a nurse aid but was soon given a clerical job. When granted leave Madge was able to visit Palestine, Syria, and the pyramids in Egypt.

Madge met her future husband, Jack Callaghan, in Egypt, apparently on the tennis court!

Jack and Madge Callaghan were married at Runanga Presbyterian Church on the 12th May 1945 and went by train to Christchurch for their honeymoon. The hotel they stayed in was so horrible they left and went to Madge's parent's house for their wedding night!

Jack and Madge settled in Takapuna, Auckland. Madge was a great mother for her two sons, Ross and Brian. She didn't have a separate job and so focused all of her energies on bringing up her boys. The family lived in three new homes - 14 Burns Ave, Takapuna, and 54 and 96 Raleigh Road, Northcote.

After the boys married and left home Jack and Madge moved to 1a Rata Road, Cheltenham. This was close to the beach and a perfect place to live out their retirement.

Jack and Madge travelled widely, sometimes for holidays, sometimes on business and sometimes as part of Rotary activities.

Madge played tennis for many years and also golf, along with the rest of the family. She played to a 14 handicap at North Shore Golf Club. Her name is on the Honours Board there for winning the Junior Championship. Later in life she played croquet.

Madge and her sisters were known collectively as 'The Tyson Girls'. The Tyson girls were close right throughout their lives and very much enjoyed getting together. They wrote to each other regularly, visited each other, and went on overseas trips together. All were wonderful Christian women, an inspiration to their families, and very much loved.

Joan Williams with her two children Pauline and Lex; Madge Callaghan with her two children Brian and Ross, and Norma Bayly, around 1951.

The Tyson girls: Madge Callaghan, Norma Bayly and Joan Williams

In her 60s Madge was diagnosed with polycythaemia, a rare blood disease. This meant that she was often tired, had fuzzy heads and felt poorly. Bad blood circulation meant that her toes got black and were extremely painful. She was amazingly uncomplaining and positive throughout her illness and lived life to the full. The expected life span for someone with polycythaemia is only about 10 years, but Madge had the disease for over 25 years, a testament to her great stickability.

Madge was a wonderful grandmother to her 7 grandchildren: Debbie, Sarah, Philip, (Ross and Kathy's children) Stephanie, Natalie, Andrew and Jamie (Brian and Margaret's children). She lived to see her first two great grandchildren, Taylor and Tyson and got immense pleasure from them.

Madge was a strong Christian woman and attended Church regularly throughout her life. She was an elder at St Georges Presbyterian Church for a number of years. She was loyal, loving, positive, caring, honest and long-suffering. A wonderful example to all!

Madge died at the age of 87 on the 5th of May 2001.
Her favourite saying was "If you give some love away, you'll always get it back".

Jack and Madge Callaghan's ashes were scattered at the base of this magnificent tree near their home in Cheltenham, Devonport.

Sisters of Madge Tyson (Aunts of Ross and Brian Callaghan)

Joan WILLIAMS (nee TYSON) was born 27 Apr 1918 at Runanga, West Coast and died 1 Mar 2006 in Timaru aged 87.

Joan was the middle child of Isaac Tyson and Clara Jane Graham.

Joan married Robert (Bob) Edward WILLIAMS on 11 Dec 1940 at Runanga Presbyterian Church. Bob was born 16 June 1917 in Motherwell, Scotland and died on 17 Mar 1996 in Timaru aged 78. Bob emigrated to New Zealand with his family when he was seven years old, aboard the ship Dorsert.

Joan and Bob had two children:

Alexander (Lex) Graham Williams was born 29 Sept 1943. Lex was a twin. His brother was stillborn. Lex married Leonie Lowe in 1969 and they had two children: Michael and Kerry.

Pauline Williams, was born 10 Nov 1948. Pauline married Lester Leighton on 27 Feb 1971 and they had two children: Julia and Craig.

After their marriage Joan and Bob lived in Runanga. The family then moved to Greymouth and lived there for many years before moving to Timaru. Bob was a NZ Railways worker, starting as a porter and finishing as Railway Traffic Foreman.

Joan did not work outside the home but was well-known as an incredible cook and for being very good at crafts. She was a woman who loved her family and cared deeply for their welfare.

Norma and Joan

Norma BAYLY (nee TYSON) was born 27 Aug 1920 at Runanga, West Coast.

Norma was the youngest child of Isaac Tyson and Clara Jane Graham.

Norma married Boyde William (Mick) BAYLY, on 4 May 1946, at St Andrews Church, New Plymouth.

Mick was born on 14 May 1906 at Omata, New Plymouth and died 17 Dec 1974, in New Plymouth, aged 68. Mick was a WW2 POW survivor (Crete).

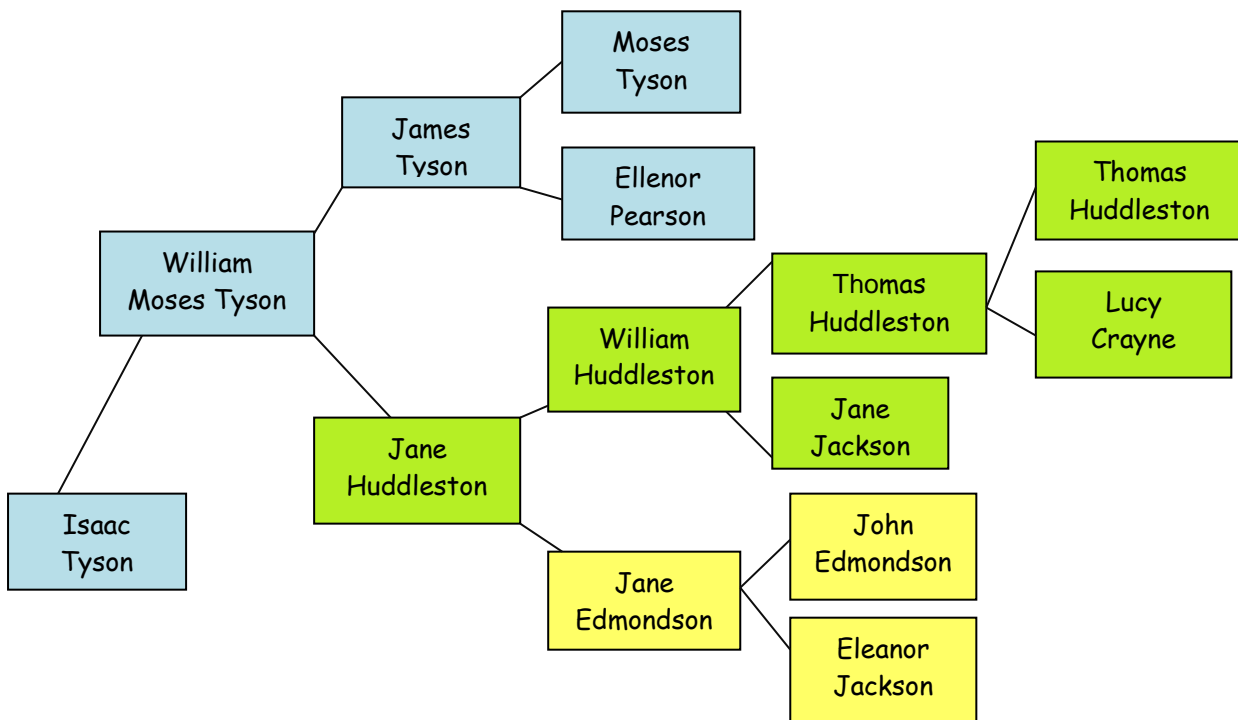

Norma trained to be a nurse in New Plymouth and it was there that she met Mick. Norma and Mick lived in New Plymouth and ran the State Milk Bar in Devon Street for many years. Later, Norma picked up her nursing skills again and spent many years working as a Practice Nurse at a local medical centre.

Norma lived life to the full. A wonderful Christian lady, Norma was fully involved in St Andrew's Presbyterian Church throughout her life. She enjoyed golf, gardening and travel and her long widowhood meant she had plenty of time to help others. Even in her retired years she was driving 'old people' (often much younger than she was!) around the community. Blindness slowed her down somewhat in her 90's, but she was able to continue living in her own home and was always surrounded by people who come to help or visit.

Although Norma was not able to have her own children, she was always involved in the lives of her nephews Lex, Ross and Brian and her niece Pauline, and subsequent generations. She was dearly loved by all!

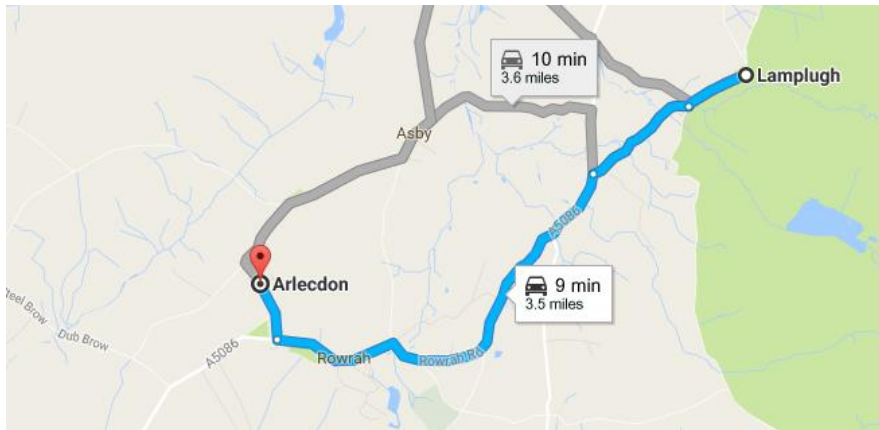

Tyson Family Lines

The name Tyson is a nickname for someone with a fiery temperament, from the Old French tison: 'firebrand'.

Arlecdon

The Tyson family lived in Arlecdon, Cumbria (Cumberland) and the Graham family lived in Lamplugh, Cumbria (Cumberland). It is 5.6km (3.5 miles) from Arlecdon to Lamplugh. Arlecdon is a village. Lamplugh is a scattered community and civil parish.

The village of Arlecdon is situated about 10 km (six miles) north-east of Whitehaven. Arlecdon developed in the 19th Century as the industrial revolution demanded more and more coal, limestone and high grade iron ore. Arlecdon and the villages around it - Cleator Moor, Frizington and Keekle - were a maze of railways, quarries and mines, producing the materials for iron works in Cleator Moor and Workington. Many of the men in the Tyson family worked in these mines.

The local church in Arlecdon is St Michael. This is where the Tyson family are buried.

Isaac was the eldest son of William Moses TYSON and Frances MOORE.

Isaac's birth was registered in Cocker-mouth, Cumberland. His mother, Frances Tyson, formerly Moore, a farm servant, reported his birth. She signed with her mark X on the 3rd of Oct 1882. This means she was illiterate.

In an interview with Isaac Tyson on his 90th birthday he says that he came to New Zealand in 1908 with his cousin "Jackie". They left England on 7 Dec 1907. The ship was 19 hours late leaving due to a storm and this time was never made up. They arrived in Sydney too late to board the Moana to NZ so had to stay in Sydney for a week. It cost 1/- a night. They bought a meal for 6d and Isaac said it was 'the best meal he ever had!' Isaac arrived in NZ in Feb 1908.

Isaac went back to Cumberland in 1912. His cousin 'Jackie' had been injured in a mining accident and Isaac travelled back with him. 'Jackie' (John Little Tyson) was the son of Isaac's uncle, Moses Huddleston Tyson. Jackie's accident was recorded in an Inspection of Coal Mines Report, presented to Parliament:

Inspection of Mines Report 1909

"Point Elizabeth Collieries: 27 July 1909, John Tyson, trucker, sustained severe crush injuries in the region of the pelvis, through being struck by a runaway truck."

Isaac was always proud of his Cumberland roots but said aged 90 that he was 'jolly glad to live in NZ and would only go back to England for a weekend!' Of Cumberland, he would say: 'Cumberland - the highest mountains, the smallest churches, the deepest lakes and the smallest railway in all England!'

Another reason Isaac went back to Cumberland in 1912 was to 'find a bride' - and he was successful in doing just that! Isaac and Clara Jane Graham were married on July 9 1913 in the Parish Church, Lamplugh (Clara's hometown).

The marriage certificate shows that at the time of the marriage Isaac was 31yrs old; he was a bachelor; his occupation was quarryman; his residence was Arlecdon, and that his father was William Moses Tyson, a quarryman.

Clara was 33yrs old; she was a spinster and her residence at time of marriage was Lamplugh, and her father was John Graham, quarryman. The witnesses to the marriage were William Tyson (it is not known if this is Isaac's father or brother), and Margaret Graham, sister of Clara. Isaac and Clara were married by William Fryar, officiating minister.

Isaac and Clara sailed for New Zealand aboard the Ionic on 18th July 1913, just 9 days after their marriage. They were never to return to England. They arrived in Wellington 8 September 1913 and settled on the West Coast.

Isaac worked as a coal miner in the Liverpool Mine, Rewanui, 15km (9 miles) from Greymouth. Although he did not go to High School, he read widely. When doing his Mine Managers Certificate exam he thought he was not doing well, so walked out. He said he regretted doing that as he found out later he would have done well if he had finished the exam. Isaac worked in the mines for 36 years and for 20 of those years he was an underviewer, (or as he liked to call it "the boss!"). An underviewer is someone who plans out the work etc. Isaac 'took ill' after 36 years in the mines and his doctor told him he should never go down a mine again because he had cancer and would be dead in 6 months. He lived another 25 years and died at 91 years of age!

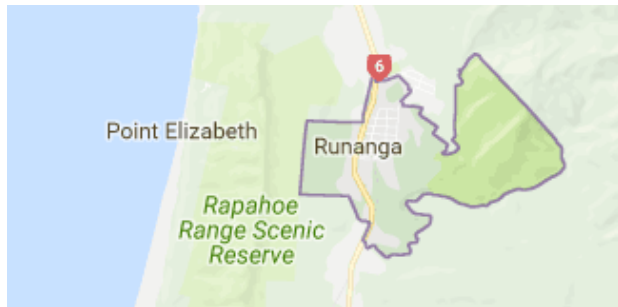

The early years of Isaac and Clara's marriage were spent mainly in a three bedroom house in Mill Street, Runanga.

Norma and Joan outside the house where they grew up in Mill St, Runanga.

Runanga is a small town on the West Coast of the South Island of New Zealand. It is located 8 km (5 miles) to the northeast of Greymouth, to the north of the Grey River.

When Isaac retired, he and Clara moved to Christchurch and settled in a little house at 127 Oram Ave, New Brighton.

Isaac and Clara had three daughters; Madge 1914 - 2001, Joan 1918 - 2006 and Norma 1920.

Isaac and Clara Jane with daughters Madge and Joan, and grandchildren Lex, Brian, Ross and Pauline, around 1955.

Isaac with daughters Norma, Madge and Joan, around 1972.

Clara died on the 13th February 1965, and from this time on Isaac lived with his daughters in Timaru, New Plymouth or Auckland.

Isaac became quite blind but remained cheerful, especially enjoying his talking books. His favourite song was "The Girl that I Marry", and he boasted at the end of his life that he was "not known to the police!"

Isaac died on the 19th May 1974 in New Plymouth aged 91.

Grandmother

Clara Jane GRAHAM (grandmother of of Lex Williams, Pauline Leighton, Ross Callaghan and Brian Callaghan) was born on 24 Dec 1878 in Lamplugh, Cumberland, England. She was the 4th child (of 12 children) of John GRAHAM and Agnes Annie SOWERBY, and died on 13 Feb 1965 in Christchurch, New Zealand at age 86.

Of her 11 siblings, five died very young or in infancy. Clara's youngest brother Thomas Graham was killed in action in France in WW1 and her three surviving sisters remained single. Clara's brother William emigrated to Canada with his wife and five children. Her brothers Richard (Dick) and John did not marry.

Clara's parents John and Agnes Graham didn't ever meet their granddaughters Madge, Joan and Norma Tyson.

In the England census of 1881 and 1891, Clara is shown as living with her parents at Green, High Fell Dyke, Lamplugh. In the 1901 census she was not living with the family. She is recorded as being 22, single, domestic servant. Her address is 198 Walmersley Road, Bury, Lancashire. She is living with and working for William H Fox, a Congregational Minister. In the 1911 census Clara is shown as back living with her parents, but the address was then Beck Gate, Lamplugh.

Every week Isaac gave Clara his whole pay packet and she managed the household. Life on the West Coast was a challenging environment to live and bring up children, and Clara was quite strict as a mother enforcing very high standards on the girls. They attended Church regularly and enjoyed special outings whenever there was a Church picnic.

Clara suffered terrible migraines, very bad tinnitus and gradually lost her hearing. She became somewhat isolated from others as a result, but very much enjoyed visits from her grandchildren, Lex and Pauline and Ross and Brian.

Her grandchildren remember her as loving poetry and having a great knack of catching flies with her hands!

When Isaac retired, he and Clara moved to Christchurch and settled in a little house at 127 Oram Ave, New Brighton. Initially they had a 'coin in the meter' for power and life got a lot easier in the 1950's when they got a flush toilet and no longer needed the services of a 'night cart'!

Clara died on the 13th February 1965, at the age of 86. From this time on Isaac lived with his daughters in Greymouth, New Plymouth or Auckland.

 Father: Isaac Moore, coal miner. Mother Mary Moore, formerly Trohear.
 Signed with her mark X by Mary Moore. Residence Sprout House, Sandwith.

Frances was one of 7 children. She had one sister and five brothers. In every census she is recorded as being born in Aspatria. The birth certificate shows her birth registered in St Bees and her mother's residence being Sandwith. It is possible Frances' actual birth took place in Aspatria, where her mother was born. Aspatria is close to Sandwith where they were living.

There is some confusion in regards to Frances in the 1871 census record. Frances would have been in her 9th year but is not listed amongst the children of Isaac and Mary Moore, and is not found in any other census record for that year. However, a Frances Troughear (her mother's maiden name) aged 9, niece, born in Aspatria is recorded as living with this family. There is no record of a Frances Troughear being born at this time, so it is likely this is a census-taker error as it fits with what is known of Frances Moore in 1871. The correct entry should have been 'Frances Moore, daughter aged 9'.

Frances Moore married William Moses Tyson on 3 June 1882, Parish Church, St Bees, Cumberland. Like her mother, Frances Moore was illiterate. She signed her marriage certificate with her mark X.

Not a lot is known about Frances Moore/Tyson and there are no photos of her. Frances died in Arlecdon on 30 May 1932 aged 72.

It is unclear how much involvement Aubrey's father James Edward Brettell had in his son's life. It appears that he had returned to England when his son Aubrey was 21.

Aubrey's aunt Florence E Dinwoodie states in his Army record:

Last time J. E. Brettell was heard from was in 1933. The year his son, A. L. E. Brettell, was 21 years old. And was never heard of since. His parents could have been married either in Sask. or Alberta, as they lived in both. Before James came to Canada in 1911.

Aubrey Leonard Edward Brettell's aunt Florence E Tyson/Dinwoodie looked after his affairs upon his death.

Jane TYSON (2nd child of James Thomas Tyson) was born in 1885 in Cumberland, England. There is no record of Jane Tyson emigrating to Canada with the family. It is possible she had died before the family emigrated, but no death record can be found.

Elizabeth married Joseph WILLIAMSON. Joseph was born in 1884 in England. He died in 1955, in Indian Head, Saskatchewan, Canada, aged 71.

Bootle's Grand Old Man

A LONG LIVED FAMILY

West Cambrians Present at Memorable Gathering

In an old fashioned cottage down by the sea lives a venerable old gentleman. His name is James Tyson and last Saturday was a memorable day in his long life, for on that day he celebrated his hundredth birthday.

Mr Tyson is a true son of the soil. His rough hands speak of many years of hard work, and his back is still so straight that he would be the envy of many men carrying but half his years. Although he cannot see, and his hearing is failing, he retains a wonderful memory. Having lost these two faculties he is not a man of many words and is if anything rather taciturn. His only desire is that he should be left alone in peace and quietness by the side of his fire with a pip o' baccy, and it was in this characteristic attitude, humming an old-time air, that a 'Whitehaven News' representative found him on Friday.

When his daughter told him there was 'a gentleman from Whitehaven' to see him, he replied, 'Aye, Whitehaven. I mind that place all right. I used to go there sometimes when I was younger - to the market'. Mr Tyson appeared to be uneasy on one point - that a visitor should have called and found him unshaven. Advancing years have neither lowered the pride which he has in his personal appearance, nor afflicted him with a shaky hand, for in spite of his blindness, he still contrives to shave himself - with an open razor too.

PREPARING FOR 'THE DAY'

As regularly as clockwork, every Friday night, Mr Tyson performs this operation, and last Friday, after the usual toilet, he retired to bed to sleep from one century into the next.

He had intended to rise at seven the next morning but when that morning arrived he changed his mind and had his breakfast in bed. Following the advice given in Harry Lauder's song 'It's nice to get up in the morning, but nicer to lie in bed', so he went to sleep again.

At nine o'clock, however, he rose and received congratulations of a large number of relations and friends. Those present included Mrs E Ormandy, with whom he resides, together with Mr Ormandy and a gr granddaughter, Miss Peggy Tyson, of Harrington; Mr William Tyson and Mr Moses Tyson, sons of Arlecdon; Mt John Tyson, Harrington; and numerous grandchildren and friends.

Mr Tyson's wife, who was formerly Miss Jane Huddleston, of Rampside, died sixteen years ago, two daughters died and one other son, Mr James Tyson, Jnr is in Saskatchewan, Canada. Others who called to congratulate Mr Tyson early on Saturday included Mr R Grice, Miss E Grice, Mr E Grice and Miss Parker. Dr. R S Brown (Bootle) also called to see his hundred years' old client, and found him in the best of health. Mr and Mrs R S Hudson sent a congratulatory telegram and many other similar messages were received.

ENJOYS A HEARTY MEAL

Mr Tyson has an excellent appetite. He enjoyed a dinner consisting of ham, beef, cake and coffee and then walked round his garden, sang a song, and smoked his favourite weed. In every way, in fact, he made an excellent start on his second century.

He was born at Corney, Bootle on June 13th, 1825 and has spent the greater part of his life in the immediate district. He remembers his school days. He had a lady teacher who used to visit the houses in the village and teach the young people in their homes and he said he 'was a bad learner'. He remembers Captain Shaw's school being built when he was five years of age.

THE FIRST TRAIN

His parents were Mr and Mrs Moses Tyson, of High Kinmont, Corney. When his father died the home was broken up and James became a farm labourer. He said he first started work when he was a small boy, and at the age of twelve could plough as straight a furrow as anybody. When he was 23 years old he had a ride on the first train that came into the district, and four years later he married. Speaking of trains, he said 'They are a great notion. I wonder what we shall get next. I don't know what we're coming to.'

He lived in the Furness district for a time and then returned to South Cumberland with his wife and resided at Hall Foss, Whitbeck until she died. Since then he has resided with his daughter and son-in-law (Mr and Mrs Ormandy) in Bootle Village, and for the last eight years at Tarn Cottage, about three miles from the village. Mr Tyson had the misfortune to lose an eye as the result of an accident about 35 years ago. The other eye continued to give good service for some time, but at last this, too began to fail, until now he can only distinguish day from night. The sight failed two years ago. He has also become very deaf, but his general health remains good.

FAVOURITE SONGS

He has been a farm worker all his life and had always been gardening, and he tended his own little plot until he was ninety years old. It is a small wonder then that his favourite song is 'The Farmer's Boy'. Other songs that he loved to sing are 'Auld Lang Syne' and 'The Old Folks at Home'. He now finds an active life impossible, and has fallen back on the comfortable fireside chair and his pipe. He enjoys a glass of ale, but has only been a very moderate drinker all his life.

IT'S AN ILL WIND

Talking of smoking Mr Tyson mentions when in 1918 the steamship Westmorland ran ashore near Seascale following a submarine attack. It was taking presents from Australia for troops in France, but was lost near Bootle. Shortly afterward a number of tins and packets were found on the beach. "We threw these away at first, thinking they were no good," said his daughter, "but at last we opened one and found it contained tobacco. After that there was plenty of tobacco for father. Cigars were washed up, as well."

As has been stated, Mr Tyson is very careful about his personal appearance. He has a great many visitors, and is always clean and tidy. He is thoroughly capable of looking after himself and never gives the slightest trouble in the house. In fact, he is what many land-ladies would describe as 'an ideal lodger'. For many years he had expressed the wish to live to see his hundredth birthday. He did not care very much how many years he lived longer than that. He cannot give any hints on how to attain an old age.

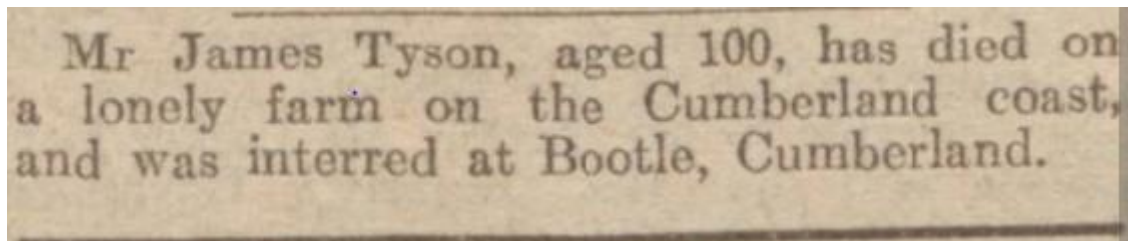

The 'apple of his eye' is his grand-daughter, Miss Peggy Tyson, who might well be described as his chief aide-de-camp, for grandpa looks to her to do all his little odd jobs and she is happy to oblige him.

FAMILY OF EIGHTY FIVE

Mr Tyson's present family consists of one daughter, four sons, 34 grandchildren and 46 grandchildren. Many of his brothers and sisters and other relations lived to 80 or 90 years of age. A sister (Jane Jackson) died at Calderbridge about eight years ago, aged 94 years and an aunt Isabella Shepard, who lived at The Green, near Millom, was 95 when she died about 20 years ago.

One hundred years is a great age but Mr Tyson is a great man and Bootle is proud of him.

James Tyson died in December 1925, aged 100. His death was reported in the Dundee Evening Telegraph December 9, 1925

The children of James Tyson and Jane Huddleston were:

James Tyson had two sisters.

Isabella TYSON (1st child of Moses Tyson and Ellen Pearson) was born in 1820 in Broughton in Furness, Lancashire. She died in 1906 in The Green, Millom, Cumberland aged 86. Isabella married Joseph SHEPHERD on 24 Jun 1843 in Bootle, Cumberland.

Jane HUDDLESTON (great, great-grandmother of Lex Williams, Pauline Leighton, Ross Callaghan and Brian Callaghan)

The surname Huddleston was derived from a pre-existing place name Huddleston in the West Riding of Yorkshire. The place name is in turn derived from the Old English personal name Hudel, the people of which are said to be originally of Saxon descent.

The surname Huddleston was first found in Cumberland, where they originally held Millom Castle in Millom. Spelling variations were a common occurrence, Huddleston has been spelled many different ways, including Huddleston, Hoddleston, Hodleston, Hiddlestone and many more.

Huddleston motto: Soli Deo honor et gloria. Honor and glory be to God alone.

The Huddleston family came from Urswick, Aldingham, Dalton-in Furness, and Rampside, Lancashire, and were the family of Jane Tyson/Huddleston, wife of James Tyson, the "Grand Old Man of Bootle".

Jane Huddleston was born about 1829 in Dalton, Lancashire. She was christened on 9 Jan 1829 in Dalton in Furness, Lancashire. She was the daughter of William HUDDLESTON and Jane EDMONDSON

It is likely that Jane and her sister Eleanor Huddleston were twins as they are recorded as having the same age in the census records. They were christened on the same day (which is not necessarily evidence of being a twin as sometimes whole families were christened together).

Jane married James TYSON in Jun 1852 in Aldingham, Lancashire.

Jane Huddleston/Tyson died 1908 aged 79. Her death is registered in Bootle, Cumberland. As she was recorded as living with her husband James in Whitbeck in the 1901 census it is likely that she died in Whitbeck.

Siblings of Jane Huddleston

(great, great, great aunts and uncles of Lex Williams, Pauline Leighton, Ross Callaghan and Brian Callaghan)

Jane Huddleston had four sisters and one brother.

Eleanor (Also recorded as Elinor) HUDDLESTON (2nd twin of first born girls of William Huddleston and Jane Edmondson) was born in 1829 in Peasholme Dalton, Lancashire, and died in Dec 1909 aged 80. Eleanor (Elinor) married Charles McALLISTER on 21 Feb 1852 in Dalton in Furness.

Thomas HUDDLESTON (3rd child of William Huddleston and Jane Edmondson) was born in 1830 in Dalton in Furness, Lancashire, and was christened on 17 Nov 1830 in Dalton in Furness, Lancashire. He died on 10 Dec 1915 in Rampside, Burrow in Furness, Lancashire aged 85.

Agnes Edmondson HUDDLESTON (4th child of William Huddleston and Jane Edmondson) was born in 1833 in Peaseholme, Lancashire and was christened on 3 Mar 1833 in Dalton in Furness. She died in 1913 in Westmorland aged 80. Agnes married Matthew WALLING in 1865 in Lancashire.

Margaret HUDDLESTON (5th child of William Huddleston and Jane Edmondson) was born in 1835 in Peaseholme, Lancashire, and died in 1911 aged 76. Margaret married Thomas KINNISH on 10 Jul 1879 in Dalton in Furness.

She died in 1924 in Barrow in Furness, Lancashire aged 85. Mary married James HELME on 3 Aug 1870 in Dalton, Lancashire.

Isaac
Moore

Mary
Troughear

Isaac MOORE (great, great-grandfather of Lex Williams, Pauline Leighton, Ross and Brian Callaghan) was born in 1830 in St Bees, Cumberland and died in 1907 in Cockermouth, Cumberland, aged 77.

Isaac married Mary TROUGHBEAR in 1848. The marriage was registered in Whitehaven, Cumberland. Mary was born in 1830 in Aspatria, Cumberland.

Isaac is recorded in 1851 as an agricultural labourer, but thereafter is recorded as a coal miner. In his later years, he is recorded as a road contractor.

Isaac Moore and Mary Troughbear had six children:

William MOORE 1848 - 1921

John MOORE 1852 -

Elizabeth MOORE 1854 -1922.

Joseph MOORE 1857 - 1858.

Isaac MOORE 1859 -

Frances MOORE 1863 -1932

Thomas MOORE 1865 -

In the 1851 census Isaac and Mary are recorded as living at St Bees, Cumberland. Isaac Moore is 22 and is an agricultural labourer. Mary Moore is 22 and William Moore is 2.

In the 1861 census Isaac and Mary are living at Sandwith, St Bees. Isaac Moore is 32, a coal miner. Mary Moore is 32, and their son William Moore is 13 and already a coal miner. John Moore is 9, Elizabeth Moore is 7 and Isaac Moore is 2. (Their child Joseph Moore was born in 1857 but died in 1858 so is not recorded in the census).

In the 1871 census Isaac and Mary are living at Main St, Dearham. Isaac Moore is 41, a coal miner. Mary Moore is 41, wife, William Moore is 22, a coal miner, Isaac Moore is 11, and Thomas Moore is 5. There is also a record for *Frances Troughbear, 9, niece, born in Aspatria.

*There is some confusion in regards to the census records of 1871. Frances Moore would have been in her 9th year. She is not listed amongst with the children of Isaac and Mary, and is not found in any other census record for that year. However a Frances Troughbear (her mother's maiden name) aged 9, niece, born in Aspatria is recorded as living with the family. There is no record of a Frances Troghear being born 9 years earlier, so it is likely this is a census taker error as the information fits with what is known of Frances Moore in 1871.

In the 1881 census Isaac and Mary are recorded as living at Hackers Yard, Dearham. Isaac Moore is 52, a coal miner. Mary Moore is 52. Their son John Moore 29 is living with them. John is recorded as a coal miner and widowed. Isaac Moore is 21, unmarried and a coal miner. Their youngest child Thomas Moore is 15 and a pupil hacker.

In the 1891 census Isaac and Mary are recorded as living at Richmonds House, Dearham. Isaac Moore is 62, a road contractor. Mary Moore is 62. Their son Isaac Moore is 31, unmarried, a colliery labourer.

In the 1901 census Isaac is recorded as living at Standingstone, Broughton Moor. He is a widow and is living with his daughter Elizabeth Horn. Isaac is 72, and is 'father-in-law of the head of the family', Christopher Horn who is 45, a publican & shoemaker who was born in Egremont. Elizabeth Horn is 45, a publican. Their son Christopher Horn is 14 and their daughter Elizabeth Horn is 12. Joseph Highmoor, step son (child from the first marriage of Elizabeth Moore (Highmoor/Horn) is 23 is a coal miner labourer.

Mary TROUGHEAR (great, great- grandmother of Lex Williams, Pauline Leighton, Ross Callaghan and Brian Callaghan) was born in 1830 in Aspatria, Cumberland, England. Very little is known about Mary Troghear.

Research of the Troghear family is difficult. The name Troghear is peculiar to Cumberland, England, with a small consistent presence in Durham where the spelling is typically TROUGHAIR. There are approximately 75 different spellings on historical documents (wills, births, deaths and marriage certificates, parish registers and bishops transcripts)! The two most common are TROUGHEAR and TROHEAR.

Until the late 1800's, with the exception of the small Durham population, all named Troghear were contained in the area bounded by St. Bees in the south and Carlisle in the north, and west of the fells, or the hill district. This is an area about 55km (35 miles) north-south, and 32km (20 miles) east-west. The Troghears still live in this coastal lowland area of Cumbria.

Mary married Isaac MOORE in 1848. The marriage was registered in Whitehaven.

It is not known when Mary Troghear/Moore died, but it was between 1891 and 1901.

Moses
Tyson

Ellenor
Pearson

Moses TYSON was born circa 1786 in Cumberland and died in Dec 1849 in Cumberland, England, aged 63.

Moses Tyson is listed in the 1829 Principal Inhabitants of Cumberland:

He is also listed in the 1847 Principal Inhabitants of Cumberland.

Moses Tyson: Residence: Parsonage, Corney.

The Parsonage, Corney

Moses married Ellenor (Ellen) PEARSON on 9 Dec 1815 in Ulverston, Lancashire.

In the 1841 census Moses' residence is Parsonage, Corney. His occupation is farmer. Moses Tyson is 55 and Eleanor 50. Their children Jane Tyson 15 and James Tyson 15 are both listed as aged 15. (Ages were 'rounded' in this census so this is not an accurate indication of their ages).

Moses Tyson and Ellenor (Ellen) Pearson had three children:

Isabella TYSON 1820 - 1906.

Jane TYSON 1823 - 1917

James TYSON 1825 - 1925

There is a christening record for an Anabella Tyson, 13 Feb 1831, Corney, Cumberland with parents Moses and Eleanor Tyson. She is quite possibly a 4th child of Moses and Ellen Tyson but no other evidence to link her to them can be found.

Ellenor (Ellen) PEARSON (great, great, great grandmother of Lex Williams, Pauline Leighton, Ross Callaghan and Brian Callaghan) was born about 1791 in Cumberland.

Graham Family Lines

Lamplugh

The Graham family lived in Lamplugh, Cumbria (Cumberland) and the Tyson family lived in Arlecdon. It is 5.6km (3.5 miles) from Lamplugh to Arlecdon. Lamplugh is a scattered community and civil parish. Murton (Moortown) comprised the hamlets of Smaithwaite, Lund, Whinnah, Beck and Felldyke. Some of these hamlets are mentioned in the Graham family documents.

Up until the iron boom of 1850 - 1880, Lamplugh was primarily an agricultural area with local industries supporting this function. During the boom the focus shifted to mining.

The local church is, (like Arlecdon) named St Michael's. This is where the Graham family are buried.

The 1910 Land Survey recorded the owners and tenants of land and properties, including Beck Gate.

Beck Gate was a cluster of several houses. The Graham family did not own their property at Beck Gate in 1910. The property was owned by John Pearson, who lived in Workington. Other properties at Beck Gate were owned by Mrs Simpson, from Bridgworth, Salop. The Graham family's direct neighbours were John B Edmondson, John Head and Charles Hales.

This photo, taken in the 1960's is believed to be the Graham property of Beck Gate

Siblings of Clara Jane Graham

(great-uncles and aunts of Lex Williams, Pauline Leighton, Ross and Brian Callaghan)

Clara had six brothers and five sisters. Four died as children or in infancy. It was common when a child died to name the next child of that sex the name of the deceased sibling. This is why there are two William Grahams and two Thomas Grahams.

Arabella GRAHAM (1st child of Agnes Sowerby), was known as Bell. She was born in 1872 in Culgaith, Cumberland. She was baptised on 9 Mar 1873 at Culgaith.

Arabella was illegitimate. Her name is recorded on her Christening Record as Arabella Sowerby (not Graham). Arabella was born in late 1872 and her christening was 9 March 1873, in Culgaith. Agnes Sowerby married John Graham in June 1873, when Arabella was an infant. As only Agnes is listed on the Christening Record it is unlikely that John Graham was her father.

Arabella never married. In the 1881 and 1891 census she is recorded as living with her parents in Lamplugh. In 1891, she is aged 18 and is a general servant.

In the 1901 census she is recorded as 28, single and is a domestic servant for Thomas Roberts, 77, widower at Chesham House, Bury, Lancashire.

In the 1911 census Arabella Graham, is recorded as aged 38 and single. Her occupation is 'General Domestic'. Her address is Fairholme, Walmersley Road, Bury, Lancashire. She is living with (and probably working for) Henry Wilkinson, Leather Belting Manufacturer and his wife Marie.

Arabella died 26 Feb 1934 at Bury, Lancashire, aged 61.

Probate:

Arabella Tyson of Lynwood, Walmersley Road, Bury, Lancashire, spinster. Died Feb 26 1934 at Bury Infirmary, Walmersley Road. Admin Manchester 10 April to Margaret Graham, spinster £178 3s 5d.

John GRAHAM (2nd child of John Graham and Agnes Sowerby), was born between Oct and Dec January 1874, in Lamplugh, Cumberland. He was christened at Lamplugh on 3 January 1875. His father's occupation is listed as Carter of Mineral. John died 10 Mar 1957 aged 82.

In the 1881 & 1891 censuses John Graham is recorded as living with his parents in Lamplugh. In 1891 aged 16 his occupation is recorded as 'Iron ore miner'.

No more information can be found for John Graham, other than his death certificate. This states he was a retired labourer and living at Meadow View House, Whitehaven at the time of his death. The cause of death was 'Cerebral Haemorrhage'. John's name is recorded on the Graham family gravestone at St Michael's, Lamplugh.

Mary Ellen GRAHAM, (3rd child of John Graham and Agnes Sowerby), known as Nell, was born 10 Nov 1876 in Lamplugh, Cumberland. She was christened on 13 Nov 1876 at Lamplugh. Her address was The Green and her father's occupation was 'Husbandman'. Mary Ellen (Nell) never married. She died 6 Jan 1954 aged 77. No Probate record was found.

In the 1881 & 1891 censuses, Mary Ellen Graham is recorded as living with her parents in Lamplugh.

In the 1901 census Mary Ellen Graham, aged 24 is recorded as a domestic cook. Her address is 50 North Street, Bury, Lancashire. She is working for and living with Deborah Fishwick, 84, single "own means". It is interesting that in 1901 all four Graham sisters were working as domestic servants in Bury Lancashire.

In the 1911 census, aged 34, Mary Ellen is recorded as single and working as a domestic servant for James William Wood, aged 68, retired draper, at 172 Chesham Rd, Bury, Lancashire.

In the 1939 register Mary Ellen is recorded as living at 2 Beck Gate, Ennerdale, Cumberland. Her name is recorded in reverse (written as Ellen Mary). She is living with her brother Richard and sister Margaret Ethel. All are single.

Margaret Ethel GRAHAM, (5th child of John Graham and Agnes Sowerby), known as Madge, was born on 3 Feb 1881, Lamplugh, Cumberland. Madge was christened at Lamplugh 6 March 1881. Her address was The Green and her father's occupation was 'Farm servant'.

Madge died 22 Dec 1958, aged 77 at Workington, Cumberland. She never married.

In the 1901 census Margaret Ethel is recorded as being 20 and working as a general domestic servant for Samuel Kay in Bury Lancashire.

In the 1911 census Margaret Ethel is recorded as being aged 30, single, and a domestic servant for George Yates, Widow, accountant at 15 Wilson Street, Bury, Lancashire.

In the 1939 register Margaret Ethel is recorded as living at 2 Beck Gate, Ennerdale, Cumberland. She is living with her brother Richard and sister Mary Ellen. All are single.

Probate:

Richard GRAHAM, (6th child of John Graham and Agnes Sowerby), known as Dick, was born 19 Jul 1883, Lamplugh, Cumberland. He was christened at Lamplugh on 26 Aug 1883. His address was The Green and his father's occupation was "Husbandman".

Richard died 12 Dec 1964, at Lamplugh aged 81. Richard was known as Dick. Richard was a Coal Miner Hewer. He never married.

In the 1891 census Richard is recorded as aged 7 and living with his parents at Green, High Fell Dyke, Lamplugh.

In the 1901 census Richard is recorded as being 17 and living at Scalesmoor, Lamplugh. His occupation is 'horseman on farm'. He is living in the home of John Sisson, farmer, so is likely to have been working for him.

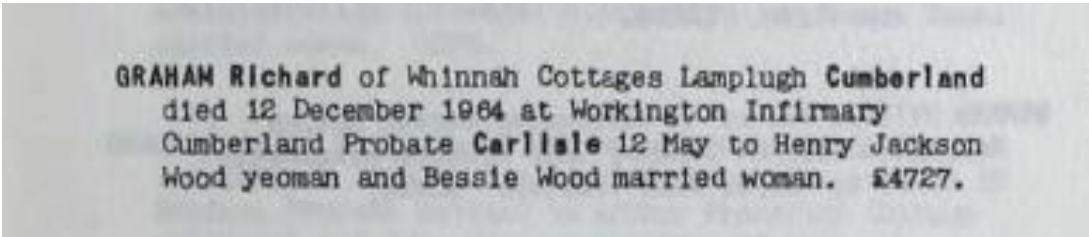

In the 1911 census Richard is recorded as being 27 and living with his father John (62), mother Agnes (58), and his sister Clara (32). Residence: Beck Gate, Lamplugh. His occupation is 'Coal miner Hewer'. This was before Clara married Isaac Tyson and left for New Zealand.

In the 1939 register Richard is recorded as living at 2 Beck Gate, Ennerdale, Cumberland. His occupation is 'Colliery Hewer Below (heavy worker)'. He was living with sisters Mary Ellen (written as Ellen Mary) and Margaret Ethel. All are single.

Richard, or Uncle Dick as he was known to his nieces, was the last of the Graham family in England to die and the Tyson girls remember getting an inheritance from him which was enough for Joan and Bob to buy a car. Richard's name is not on the family headstone in Lamplugh. This is probably due to him being the last of the direct family live in England. Richard died on the 12 Dec 1964 at Workington, Cumberland.

William GRAHAM (7th child of John Graham and Agnes Sowerby), was born in 1885. He was christened at Lamplugh on 23 March 1885. His address was The Green and his father's occupation was 'Husbandman'.

William died 28 Dec 1885, aged 9 months.

Annie died 7 Feb 1905, aged 16 years. The coroner's verdict of cause of death was that Annie "drowned herself whilst temporarily insane" at Cogra Moss Reservoir, Lamplugh.

Times and Star Saturday February 11 1905:

YOUNG GIRL COMMITS SUICIDE

The gloom which has enveloped the parish of Lamplugh since the New Year was intensified on Wednesday by the news that the body of a girl of sixteen named Annie Graham whose parents resided at the Beck, was recovered from the Cogra Moss Reservoir early that morning. It appears that she left home on Tuesday evening about 6pm ostensibly to go to Mill Gill Head for milk. She however turned off at Lund and went towards Fell Dyke. She was seen and spoken to in the lane, but no one saw her afterwards, and it is surmised that she took a roundabout route to the reservoir, thus avoiding Fell Dyke. As she did not return with the milk her parents sent to Mill Gill Head to make enquiries. Hearing that she had not been there her father at once set off to discover her whereabouts. He saw the people who had met her in Lund Lane, and then went on to Fell Dyke but there were no traces of her there. He next went on to the reservoir, having in his mind a remark that she had formerly made about drowning herself, and was horrified to find the milk tin standing on the end of the pier. Being all alone he could make no search effectively so he returned with all speed to the Beck. The police were communicated with, and pending their arrival Mr Graham organised a search party. It was now getting near midnight but Messrs Alfred Edmondson, Chas Hales and Baxter Wood were soon ready to accompany Mr Graham and his son Richard on their sad quest. Mr B Wood speedily and skilfully fashioned a grappling iron and the party then set off for Cogra Moss. As soon as they arrived Mr Graham indicated the spot where he had found the milk tin. Mr Wood threw the iron and immediately touched the body. With some difficulty Messrs Wood and Edmondson got the body out of the water, and a rough bier being constructed from some rails found close by, the party carried the poor girl home. A word of praise must be accorded to the search party for their ready acceptance of a most painful office, and for the able yet decorous manner in which their duty was performed. The body was recovered about 2am on Wednesday morning.

THE INQUEST

The inquest was held at Lamplugh Cross on Wednesday afternoon, Mr Gordon Falcon, Coroner for the Lordship of Egremont, conducting the enquiry.

Mr Graham, the father, recounted his experience of the previous night as detailed above. In response to the coroner's inquiries he said the poor girl had always been of feeble mind, and had 18 months ago made some threat about drowning herself. It was the memory of this threat which led him to the reservoir. There were no traces of any struggle at the reservoir. But for finding the tin he would not have known she had gone there. She was fond of reading cases of suicide in the newspapers. She had every comfort at home. She had been out of health since the New Year and had been very restless at night.

Witnesses gave evidence of having seen the deceased in Lund Lane at 6pm the previous evening, and Mr Wood gave evidence as to the finding of the body.

PC Sessford gave evidence as to examination of the body after it was brought to the Beck. There were no marks of violence on it, nor anything to indicate foul play. He had examined the ground round the reservoir but found no traces of any struggle. He was of the opinion that the girl had taken her own life. No letter or message of any sort had been left by her.

The jury (of which Mr John Huggin of Starling Bank was the foreman) expressed themselves as perfectly satisfied with the evidence and brought a verdict of "Suicide whilst of unsound mind". The jurymen's fees were handed to the father.

The distressing affair has created a most painful sensation in the parish and the utmost sympathy is felt for the deceased's father, mother and family in their lamentable bereavement.

THE FUNERAL

The funeral took place at Lamplugh Church yesterday (Friday) afternoon when there was a large gathering of sympathising friends and neighbours. The Rev S G Craig, Rector, conducted the funeral service. The choir sang a sweetly the 139th psalm and the hymn "There is a blessed home". The coffin was a very handsome one and on it was placed a lovely wreath sent by members of the deceased's family. Messrs A Edmondson, T Tolson, J Hayston and I Sloan acted as bearers. The funeral arrangements were admirably carried out by Mr J Tolson of the Lund.

William GRAHAM (9th child of John Graham and Agnes Sowerby), was born in 1890. He is the second child named William, and would have been named after his brother who died as an infant in 1895. William was christened on 25 Aug 1889 at Lamplugh. The address was The Green. Father's occupation 'Husbandman'.

William is recorded in the censuses of 1891 and 1901, living with his parents.

William married Sarah Frances Mavir, 17 April 1913 at Arlecdon. The marriage record states that William Graham was 23, of Lamplugh. He was a bachelor and his occupation was a collier. His father was John Graham, quarryman. Sarah Frances Mavir was 22, of Arlecdon. She was a spinster. Her father was Thomas Mavir, a quarryman. The marriage was witnessed by Richard Graham and Clara Jane Graham, brother and sister of William.

William and Sarah had five children: Ronald born in 1914, Elsie born in 1915, Annie born in 1918, Thomas born in 1920 and Lily born in 1920.

William emigrated to Canada on 12 Nov 1921 aboard the ship Malita. He went alone and his family followed in 1923. William was 32 years old and his occupation is recorded as 'Miner'. His England address was 23 Parks Road, Arlecdon. He was destined for Chase River, Nanaimo, Vancouver Island, British Columbia, where his brother-in-law Albert E Lavery lived. Albert Lavery was married to Isabella Mavir, the sister of his wife, Sarah Frances Graham (Mavir).

Sarah and the children emigrated to Canada in Dec 1923 aboard the ship Montrose. The arrival port was Quebec. The destination is recorded as 12 View Street, Nanaimo, British Columbia, where William Graham was living.

No other information has been found about this family except for the death record for Sarah Frances Graham, who died in 19 June 1963 at Nanaimo, BC.

William is not listed on the family headstone in Lamplugh, probably because he died in Canada.

Thomas GRAHAM (10th child of John Graham and Agnes Sowerby), was born 26 Mar 1891. Thomas Graham was christened on 31 March 1891 at Lamplugh. The address was The Green. Father's occupation 'Husbandman'. Thomas died on 19 April 1891 aged 3 weeks.

Fanny GRAHAM (11th child of John Graham and Agnes Sowerby), was born in 1892. Fanny was christened on 27 June 1892. The address was The Green. Father's occupation was 'Husbandman'. Fanny died 3 Jun 1895 aged 3 years. She died of convulsions as a result of Scarlet Fever.

Thomas died (KIA) on 23 Aug 1918, in France. The family story is that he was killed on the last day of the war, but in fact the war ended on Nov 11th 1918.

Arabella 8 is recorded as born in Culgaith. The remaining children were all born in Lamplugh - John Graham 6, Mary E Graham 4, Clara J Graham 2 and Margaret E Graham 2 months. They also had two boarders: John Fleming, unmarried, 27, agricultural labourer, and Andrew Rathay, 57, unmarried, tea dealer.

Siblings of John Graham

(great, great uncles and aunts of Lex Williams, Pauline Leighton,
Ross Callaghan and Brian Callaghan)

Margaret GRAHAM was born in 1840 in Wetheral, Cumberland.

Margaret Graham is recorded in the 1851 census as being aged 10, which would mean she was born 3 years before her parent's marriage on 14 Nov 1844. There is a christening record for a Margaret Gaddess, christened 27/12/1840 at Wetheral. The mother is recorded as Eleanor Gaddess and the father as George Fisher. This indicates that Margaret was likely to be illegitimate as her surname was not recorded as 'Fisher'. She was given the surname Graham after her mother Eleanor Gaddes married Richard Graham in 1844.

Richard GRAHAM was born in 1845 in Wetheral, Cumberland. He was christened on 11 May 1845 in Wetheral, Cumberland.

Eleanor GRAHAM was born circa 1847 in Armathwaite, Cumberland. She was christened on 11 Apr 1847 in Armathwaite, Cumberland.

William GRAHAM was born circa 1851 in Armathwaite, Cumberland. He was christened on 14 Dec 1851 in Armathwaite, Cumberland.

Annie Jane GRAHAM was born in 1855 in Armathwaite, Cumberland. She was christened on 25 November 1855 in Armathwaite, Cumberland. She is recorded in the 1861 census, but not thereafter. There is a death record for Annie Graham aged 14, in 1870, registered in Carlisle, which may be her.

Mary GRAHAM was born in 1860 in Armathwaite, Cumberland. She was christened on 30 Sep 1860 in Armathwaite, Cumberland.

Agnes Annie SOWERBY (great-grandmother of Lex Williams, Pauline Leighton, Ross Callaghan and Brian Callaghan) was born 10 June in 1852 in Culgaith, Cumberland. Agnes was christened on 11 Jul 1852 in Culgaith, Cumberland. She was the eldest daughter of John SOWERBY and Mary MORLAND. She was one of 12 children.

In the 1861 census Agnes is recorded as living with her parents and siblings in Culgaith. In the 1871 census she is working as a farm servant for Francis Dobinson, at Sandford, Westmorland.

Agnes married John GRAHAM on 28 Jun 1873 in Kirkland, Cumberland and gave birth to 12 children. Five died infancy or childhood. Agnes and John's youngest son Thomas Graham was killed in action in France in WW1, aged 22.

The 1911 census records that Agnes gave birth to 12 children, 8 alive and 4 dead. (Their youngest son Thomas was still alive in 1911).

Agnes and John's daughter Clara Jane Graham was the only daughter to marry. Clara left to live in New Zealand 9 days after her marriage to Isaac Tyson. Clara and Isaac had three daughters Madge, Joan and Norma. Unfortunately the girls never met their grandparents, but Clara stayed in contact with her family via letters, and the girls were aware of who their grandparents and aunts and uncles were.

Agnes and John's son William Graham emigrated to Canada in 1921. His wife and five children followed 2 years later. The children were aged between 2 and 10 years when they left England. It is unlikely that Agnes and John Graham saw these grandchildren again. Their other sons, Richard and John, did not marry.

Agnes Anne Sowerby/Tyson died on 12 Dec 1926 in Lamplugh, aged 74. Agnes is buried with her family in St Michael's graveyard, Lamplugh.

In the 1851 census the Graham family is recorded as living in the village of Armathwaite, Upper and Nether Hesketh. Richard Graham is 35, married and his occupation is 'Husbandman'. Eleanor Graham is 29. Their children are Margaret Graham 10, born Wetheral, Cumberland; Richard Graham 5, born Wetheral; Eleanor Graham 4, born Hesketh, and John 1, born Hesketh.

Margaret Graham is recorded in the 1851 census as being aged 10, which would mean she was born 3 years before her parent's marriage on 14 Nov 1844. There is a christening record for a Margaret Gaddess, christened 27/12/1840 at Wetheral. The father is recorded as George Fisher, and the mother as Eleanor Gaddess. This indicates that Margaret was likely to be illegitimate as her surname was not recorded as 'Fisher'. She was given the surname Graham after her mother Eleanor Gaddess married Richard Graham in 1844.

In the 1861 census the Graham family is recorded as living at Moorhouse, Cumberland. Richard Graham is 45, married, an agricultural labourer. Eleanor Graham is 39. Their children are all recorded as being born in Armathwaite. John Graham is 12, William Graham 9, Annie Jane Graham 5, and Mary Graham 7 months.

In the 1871 census the Graham family is recorded as living at Woodland, Brisco, Cumberland. The house name was Lough. Richard is 55, a husbandman. Ellen Graham is 50, (now referred to as Ellen). Richard Graham 26, a husbandman, is the only one of their children living with them. A niece, Ann Gaddess 9, born Liverpool, Lancashire, was living with them on census night.

Richard Graham and Eleanor Gaddess had seven children.

Eleanor (Ellen) GADDESS (great, great-grandmother of Lex Williams, Pauline Leighton, Ross Callaghan and Brian Callaghan) was born circa 1822 in Stapleton, Cumberland. She was the daughter of Richard GADDESS and Catherine SINCLAIR. Eleanor (Ellen) died in 1900 in Carlisle, Cumberland, aged circa 78. Eleanor was illiterate. On her marriage certificate she signed her name with her 'mark' a +. She had a child, Margaret, with George Fisher and married Richard Graham on 14 Nov 1844 and had 6 more children. Little else is known about Eleanor (Ellen) Graham/Gaddess.

The Sowerby surname evolved from any of several places so named in England. It comes from the old Norse word 'Saurr' meaning 'ground' and the old English word 'Byrr' meaning 'farm'.

This Sowerby family originated in Culgaith, Cumberland. Culgaith is a small town, situated in Kirkland parish, Cumberland, on the rivers Eden and Tees, at the boundary with Westmoreland. It is 12km (7.7 miles) from Penrith.

Sixth Generation

(great, great, great-grandparents of Lex Williams, Pauline Leighton,
Ross Callaghan and Brian Callaghan)

John GRAHAM (great, great, great-grandfather of Lex Williams, Pauline Leighton, Ross Callaghan and Brian Callaghan) is the oldest known ancestor in the Graham line. He was the father of Richard GRAHAM, and is recorded on the marriage certificate of his son Richard Graham and Eleanor (Ellen) Gaddess in 1847. His occupation is recorded as 'Husbandman'. It is not known who John Graham's wife was.

The only known child of John Graham was Richard GRAHAM, born 1816 in Moorhouse, Cumberland. No other information has been found about John Graham.

Note: There are various spellings of the surname Gaddess.

Richard GADDESS (great, great, great-grandfather of Lex Williams, Pauline Leighton, Ross Callaghan and Brian Callaghan) was born circa 1786 in Stapleton, Cumberland. He died in 1862 in Carlisle, aged 76.

On the marriage record of Eleanor Gaddess in 1844, Richard Gaddess was recorded as her father and his occupation was 'Blacksmith'.

In the 1841 census Richard Gaddas (note spelling variation) is recorded as living in Wetherall, Cumberland. He is recorded as being aged 50 and his occupation is Blacksmith. He has five children living with him: Ellen Gaddas, 20, Robert Gaddas 15, William Gaddas 10 (rounded), Christine Gaddas 10 (rounded), and Margaret Gaddas 5 months. No wife or mother is recorded, so it is possible that she had died.

If Richard was born in 1786 (as indicated in other censuses) he should have been 55 in the 1841 census, not 50. Ages were rounded in the 1841 census, so are not reliable.

In the 1851 census Richard is recorded as living at Cumwhinton, Cumberland. He is 65 years old and a widow. His occupation is 'formerly Blacksmith'. He has one daughter living with him, Mary Gaddess, born Arthuret, who is 32, and her occupation is 'School Mistress'

In the 1861 census Richard is recorded as living in Stanwix, Cumberland. He is 75 years old, and a widow. His occupation is 'Blacksmith'. His single daughter Mary, 43 is still living with him. Her occupation is not listed. There is a grandson William Gaddess, 10, born Armathwaite living with them, (possibly an illegitimate child of Mary).

Richard Gaddess had six children.

Margaret Gaddess born circa 1818

Ellen (Eleanor) Gaddess born circa 1822

Robert Gaddess born circa 1825

William Gaddess date of birth uncertain

Christine Gaddess date of birth uncertain

Margaret Gaddess born circa 1840

William
Sowerby

Mary

William SOWERBY (great, great, great-grandfather of Lex Williams, Pauline Leighton, Ross Callaghan and Brian Callaghan). It is not known when William Sowerby and his wife Mary (surname unknown) were born. They are recorded as the parents of their children on the christening records 1820 - 1836. All of the children were christened in Culgaith, Cumberland, so it is thought they came from that area.

William and Mary Sowerby had seven children.

Thomas SOWERBY was born circa 1820 in Culgaith, Cumberland and was christened on 25 Dec 1820, in Culgaith. He died 1889, aged 69.

John SOWERBY was born 1823 in Culgaith, Cumberland, and was christened on 28 Feb 1823, at Culgaith. John died 19 March 1898 at Culgaith, aged 75.

William SOWERBY was born in 1825 in Culgaith, Cumberland and was christened on 13 Mar 1825, in Culgaith. As there is a second William Sowerby born in 1836 it is likely that this William Sowerby died as a child or infant.

Anthony SOWERBY was born in 1827 in Culgaith, Cumberland, and was christened on 1 Feb 1827, in Culgaith. She died on 24 Oct 1907 in Home St, Appleby, Westmorland, aged 80.

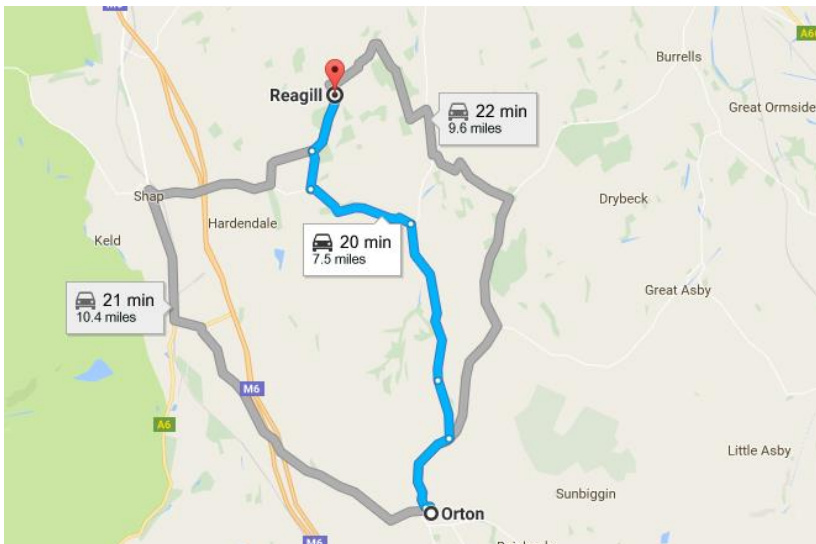

Joseph SOWERBY was born in 1829 in Culgaith, Cumberland and was christened on 26 Apr 1829, in Culgaith.

James SOWERBY was born in 1833 in Culgaith, Cumberland and was christened on 14 Apr 1833 in Culgaith. He died on 2 Dec 1910, in Culgaith, aged 77.

William SOWERBY was born in 1836 in Culgaith, Cumberland and was christened on 13 Mar 1836 in Culgaith. He died in 1895, aged 59.

This Morland family comes from Orton and Reagill, in what is now Cumbria. Previously it was part of historic Westmorland. The Morland family worked on the land as agricultural labourers or in one instance, a game keeper.

Reagill is an isolated hamlet in the parish of Crosby Ravensworth, in the Eden District of Cumberland (now Cumbria).

Orton is a village 12 km (7.5 miles) south of Reagill.

Gerard
Morland

Mary
Cousins

Gerard MORLAND (great, great, great-grandfather of Lex Williams, Pauline Leighton, Ross Callaghan and Brian Callaghan) was born in 1792 in Westmorland and was christened on 28 Jun 1792 in Orton, Westmorland. Gerard was the 8th child of Richard MORLAND and Mary RAWES. He died in 1870 in East Ward, Westmorland aged 78. A common spelling variation of his name is Gerrard.

There is some confusion in regards to Gerard Morland and his wives. It is thought that he married twice and both wives were named Mary (hence the confusion). The following is a theory of what is believed to be the correct line of events.

Gerard Morland married Mary COUSINS 27 Nov 1826 in Middleton-in-Teasedale, Westmorland.

Gerard and Mary had six children.

Elizabeth (Betsy) MORLAND was born in 1827 in Middleton-in-Teasdale, Durham and was christened on 11 Mar 1827 in Middleton-in-Teasdale, Durham.

Mary MORLAND was born in 1828 in Reagill, Westmorland. She died in 1893 aged 65.

Sarah MORLAND was born in 1830 in Crosby, Ravensworth, Westmorland and was christened on 26 Jun 1830 in Crosby, Ravensworth.

Agnes MORLAND was born circa 1836 in Reagill, Westmorland. Agnes married Thomas GREENWELL.

Hannah MORLAND was born in 1838 in West Ward, Westmorland.

James MORLAND was born in 1839 in Appleby, Westmorland and was christened on 30 Nov 1839 in St Michael, Appleby, Westmorland.

Mary Cousins/Morland died Dec 4 1839, around the time James Morland was born, so her death may be linked to the birth of James. James does not appear on the 1841 census so he may have died also.

Gerrard Morland married Mary Gowlden between April - June 1844. They had one child.

Thomas MORLAND was born in 1844 (actual date unknown), soon after the marriage of his parents. He was christened July 31 1844, but died 4 days later on the 4th of August 1844.

Gerard Morland is recorded in the 1841 census, aged 48, with two of his daughters, Agnes and Hannah, both recorded as aged 5. (Ages were 'rounded' in this census. Agnes should have been recorded as aged 5 and Hannah aged 3). Also living with the family are James Morland, aged 71. It is not known what relationship this is to Gerard. He did have a brother James, but this James Morland is too old at 71 to be this brother James. He is also too young to be the father of Gerard (if the known ages of his siblings are correct). Marital status was not recorded in the 1841 census so this can't help.

In 1851 and 1861 census Gerard is recorded as a widower. He married Mary Gowlden in 1844, so in 1861, when described as a widower it must mean his second wife Mary had died.

In the 1851 census Gerard Morland is recorded as living at Moor House, Dufton, East Ward, Westmorland. He is a widower aged 58. His occupation is 'Game Keeper'. Living with him were Betsy Morland, daughter, 24, unmarried, born 1827, Hannah Morland, daughter, 13, born Westmorland 1838, James Morland, grandson, 8 months, born Culgaith 1851 (thought to be the illegitimate child of Agnes Morland/Greenwell - see 1861 census) and Nancy Sinkler, a visitor, 17, born Middleton, Durham, 1834 (possibly a relative).

In the 1861 census Gerrard is recorded as living at Hoff Lynn, Drybeck, Westmorland, with his daughter Agnes Greenwell, nee Morland. Gerard is 67, a widower, and his occupation is gamekeeper. Gerrard is living with his son-in-law, Thomas Greenwell, 28, a miner, born in 1833 in Garrigill, Westmorland and Agnes Greenwell (his daughter) 25, a miner's wife. James Morland 11, grandson of Gerrard (illegitimate son of Agnes) was born in Culgaith, in 1850.

Mary COUSINS (great, great, great-grandmother of Lex Williams, Pauline Leighton, Ross Callaghan and Brian Callaghan) married Gerard MORLAND 27 Nov 1826 in Middleton-in-Teasedale, Westmorland. She died 4 Dec 1839. No other information is known about her.
